IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear son and brother, Edward J. Giles, who passed away one year ago, September 23, 1960.
Gone is the face we loved so well,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech.
Often to your grave we wander,
And place flowers with tender care:
For we know that you are near.
So, sleep on my darling, and take your rest.
We loved you well, but God loved you best.
You left a beautiful memory, dear brother,
A sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who loved and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.

Good Harvest On Darkleaf Tobacco Crop

Prospects for the current crop of dark-fired tobacco are considered excellent. An irregular season has not marred the quality being housed in tobacco barns in Appomattox County at the present, and general opinion is that this will be a fine offering of dark-leaf for the warehouses, slated to open November 27.

Warehousemen say that they are pleased with their inspection of the crop. They predict that the yield will run to 10,000,000 pounds.

This would be up some million pounds over the harvest of last year.

Last year, dark-fired tobacco in Virginia brought in about $3,500,000 to growers.

In Appomattox County, harvesting is virtually complete. Weather has been reasonable for the harvest. Overall, the crop was not too much damaged by first a dry spell, and then too much rain. The end result was on the good side.

Last year, the average yield per acre was 1,231 pounds. It would appear that was a possibility that this figure would be exceeded this year.

Warehouses for the sale of dark-fired tobacco are in Farmville, and Lynchburg and Blackstone.

Appomattox is the largest producing dark-leaf tobacco county in Virginia, and usually tops the market, the sales being a major factor in the economy of the county.

LETTER WRITING WEEK

The 24th annual Letter Writing Week be celebrated in Appomattox during the week of Oct. 1 to 7, it was announced today by Postmaster H. W. Conner.

Postmaster Conner noted that a letter "is the most economical personal way to extend greetings, communicate social news, and exchange ideas."

During Letter Writing Week Postmaster Conner suggested that you write at least two letters: -- to a friend or relative from whom you have not heard in a long time; and the second as a reply to a friend or relative who recently wrote to you. He also urged correspondents to people in other countries as a means of promoting greater understanding among the people of different nations.

The slogan of this year's event, as indicated on more than 200,000 banners, is "Letters are Links to Friendship." The display materials will appear on post office bulletin boards, and rural carrier vehicles, as well as in various schools and libraries.
